

Willow and Flynn love Wunderdogs. We first heard about your wonderful efforts when you were collecting for the animals that were affected by the floods in 2010. Since then our boys have been regular attendees. We recognise that Mel and Stephen have a genuine love of dogs and you understand this when you see how excited our boys are when they arrive in the morning.

Thank you both so much for making our dogs so incredibly happy as you have made us.
All the very best, Juanita and Sybil.

Teddy is ridiculously in love with Wunderdogs. He can't wait to get there and pulls me off my feet to get into the gate. Thank you Mel and Stephen for making our lives so happy.
With love from Teddy and Mummy.

Hi My Little Labradoodle has been coming to Wunderdogs for the past 5 months. He visits every Friday for a full day and absolutely loves it... He has so much energy but when he comes home he falls asleep in the car. Wunderdogs has engaged Hendrix with a fun and safe play environment. The social skills he has learnt on his Friday visits makes it a pleasure for me to take him anywhere. His confidence level has increased as he has been able to socialise with all dogs big and small in a play environment. Enrolling Hendrix at Wunderdogs at only 4 months of age has given him a wonderful start as a happy friendly doggy. Thanks Stephen and Mel for providing such a wonderful service in our local community. Cheers Leanne

My dog Zara has been attending Wunderdogs since she was a puppy on a regular basis now for over two years. She absolutely loves it, gets hugely excited when the leash comes on in the morning and she gets into the car, she cries excitedly until we arrive, when she can't contain her excitement any longer and starts barking with impatience. She has a couple of boyfriends who also attend regularly, but she just generally socialises hard with the lovely array of dogs who attend. From what we can see and the type of animal that she is, she displays pure joy living her life and Wunderdogs certainly plays a part in that. Petra

My Miss JJ has been attending Wunderdogs for over 3 years (she is 4 now). It is a great way for dogs to socialise whether they are big, small, young or even of a mature age. Wunderdogs family (Stephen, Mel, Milo and staff) treat all the dogs as if they were their own. Miss JJ wags her tail on arrival and is always excited to see Stephen and Mel and is absolutely exhausted when I pick her up. I would highly recommend a day at Wunderdogs. Kaylene

Just wanted to say thank you to you guys for all the work you've done helping Cinder (Ella). I have just come back from Stumers Creek where she ran around off lead playing with all different sorts of dogs. This is the first time I've ever been able to run her off lead down there and she was SO well behaved. I would never have dreamed she could have done this three months ago. Thank you for helping to change her into a manageable dog that I can do things with. This means so much to me... Thank you. Linda

When Billy came to us, my business was taking off and I was the single parent to my then 4 year old daughter. Needless to say... a new puppy was full on. The vet suggested that I send him to Wunderdogs and without exaggerating at all Mel and Stephen changed it all for me. I would drop him off and work all day knowing that he was looked after and having fun and then when I picked him up he would be happy and tired. It alleviated my guilt but most of all made me feel happy as he was happy and at the end of the day that's what counts.

He is now 3 1/2 years old and going to Wunderdogs is an integral part of our lives. I love that he still runs through that gate with such enthusiasm each morning and that is credit to the wonderful job that Mel and Stephen do every day with him and all the other dogs.

Naomi

Our puppy Asher absolutely loves Wunderdogs. He gets excited every Thursday and certainly makes the most of his time there. Mel and Stephen do a great job and it is wonderful to know he is in such capable hands.

Thank you xx Amy

We have been fortunate enough to send two of our beloved fur kids to Wunderdogs and in 2016 we will eagerly send a third. To us Wunderdogs is about socialisation in a fun, supervised setting which has seen our rambunctious young Staffy grow into a confident, friendly and (mostly) obedient young dog. It never ceases to delight us to see owners dragged across the car park to the gated entrance.

Dogs quite simply love it here.

More than just a fun facility for our pooches Wunderdogs offers us caring security, when we can't be with our dogs.

Our epileptic boy was welcomed with open arms.

At the end of each day I am sure the Wunderdogs Wunderhumans go home tired. We have often carried our Staffy from the car and to his bed...

Too tired to do anything but dream!

I'm not at all sure what I would have done with my little rescued Cavalier King Charles Spaniel, Pippa, when she found her forever home with me 4.5 years ago... if a friend hadn't suggested I "try Wunderdogs". Pippa was so very anxious, terribly afraid of men and most dogs. She had spent the first four years of her life in a cage, breeding puppies. Such a sad beginning for a beautiful little girl. I am so happy Mel & Stephen took Pippa, and her anxieties, on board, giving her much love while helping her to socialise with other dogs of varying breeds and sizes. Initially, Pippa was not too happy about being dropped off at Wunderdogs. Now?... some days she can't wait to get in there to see her friends, and completely forgets to say "goodbye" to her Mumma!

I have recommended Wunderdogs to quite a number of people without hesitation. I'm happy most of those owners have their dogs now attending the fun place, Wunderdogs!

Thank you Mel, Stephen and team, very much.

Janette & Pippa

oh... I forgot to mention that Pippa is quite deaf.

Mel & Stephen have taught me some hand signals to use with Pippa. Brilliant!

Awesome place for furry kids to play, socialise and learn. On ya Melanie and Stephen for all you do for Zac and his classmates.

Tony

Wunderdogs cured my dog of fear aggression. Staff knew exactly what they were doing from the word go. We saw amazing results after a handful of visits. Developing confidence in socialising at Wunderdogs has transformed Sam's life (and mine). Friends and family who had seen her past behaviour are now amazed at her maturity and calm presence in social situations. The best part is that she enjoyed the process! When we arrive at Wunderdogs her tail is wagging and she knows she is in for a fun day.

I am eternally grateful to Wunderdogs for the contribution they have made to our lives. Amazing people, amazing service and amazing results.

You have to try Wunderdogs. Todd

Our dog Bonnie is a not quite 2 year old Kelpie/Border Collie cross. She is super fast, super agile and full of beans. She has been going to Wunderdogs for about 18 months. She just loves it.

In fact, she even knows when it is Tuesday. After our morning walk she usually has 2 chicken necks and a bit of dry kibble for breakfast. On a Wunderdogs day, after our chicken necks, Bonnie will sit at the cupboard door where her Wunderdogs collar is. She is not remotely interested in the dry kibble. As soon as the collar is on, she waits at the front door to get in the car. If either of us are a little slow in getting out the door we get "rounded up and told off".

When we're in the car and getting close to Wunderdogs Bonnie sits up, scratches at the door and whimpers. As soon as we pull up in the carpark and we release her from the seatbelt she bolts for your gate without the need for any restraint. Bonnie loves Wunderdogs so much. And when we get home it's evening meal and on the bed for a snooze as she is spent.

On a non-Wunderdogs night we have games to play,
but not Tuesday or Wednesday.

We cannot thank you both enough for teaching Bonnie. Firstly, to relate well to all other dogs and secondly, to not be so bossy because just sometimes it's fun to pretend someone else is "top dog".

For her breed, it would be cruel to expect her to become a contemporary city girl, but thanks to Wunderdogs she gets plenty of companionship and fun games to occupy her ever inquisitive nature.

Kindest Regards

Tim and Denise

Maisy just loves Wunderdogs,
when we arrive she cant wait to get out of the car! Thanks for taking good care of her
:-) Monique

Moses is always so excited to go to Wunderdogs, especially when there is a birthday party. The staff are always professional and energetic.
I know that he is in great hands when
I take him there. VB Best

Percy is such a social 'little' puppy. Even at 9 months and weighing 55kg, he is still a puppy in heart and head. His size sadly, but naturally, puts other dogs and their owners on alert. Because of his safe, non aggressive exposure to other dogs at Wunderdogs Doggy Daycare, Percy views other dogs and children as friendly and potential playmates. When I walk him and he spots another dog, his tail does 360° wags, he bows and drops to all fours (reducing his intimidating size), then waits for their approval before the sniffing and puppy leaping begins.

However when meeting elderly people, whilst the tail still spins, he gently leans into them. He shows respect and empathy toward them. These good manners commenced at Wunderdogs. I don't trust leash free areas as many owners use them to only bleed off pent up energy in untrained dogs and won't take responsibility. They use these areas as free "anything goes" areas. Percy is so excited when he realises he is going to Wunderdogs. I know he is happy at Wunderdogs by his reaction which commences as we turn at the roundabout. 55kg of fur trying to bounce, head craning forward, tail thumping on the back window held in only by his seat belt. His joy when he spots Mel or Stephen at drop off, tail spinning at top speed, leaping in the air. Hmm... perhaps we need to work on that part of his training!

Percy gets to run, play, rest, chew toys and repeat. He drags his feet like a 3 year old child when I pick him up. The slow, head down walk to the car, initial refusal to get in - really is quite childlike and funny! Percy shall always get his special times at Wunderdogs, because I love him and want the best for his mental and physical health.

Warmest regards Virginia & Percy

Kaiser had his first day being assessed and I was impressed from the moment I walked in. Incredible facility, caring staff and not at all the chaos I expected! Kaiser is completely pooped after making new friends and I am relieved to find somewhere safe and fun for him.

Thank you! Sian

My little princess has been in class for a number of years now. She loves her teachers and little friends... can't recommend it more highly.

Thanks Mel and Stephen.

When our Siberian Husky (Possum) was only 9 weeks old our vet strongly suggested we socialise her, otherwise risk having a "lone wolf" who doesn't mix well with people or pets. How to do that? Possum graduated from Puppy Pre School but was still shy & timid. Then we heard about Wunderdogs from another customer in a local pet shop; they raved how well Wunderdogs had rehabilitated their old dog suffering from depression due to the recent loss of its brother. Within a few visits our puppy was sociable, confident, well adjusted, friendly & easy going in any company be it friend, stranger, human or dog. Now, a few years on Possum still LOVES attending Wunderdogs. Stephen & Mel are great pack leaders that have helped shape Possum into a friendly & confident dog - thank you. We tell every dog owner who will listen how great our Wunderdogs experience is - we heartily recommend Wunderdogs.

Cleo had her first day today being assessed and I was so pleased to see the professionalism and kindness shown to her, I am sure she is looking forward to her next visit. Liz

Maggie began her journey as a rescued dog being very timid and very afraid of other dogs. After a few sessions with the incredible kindness and understanding of Mel and Stephen and all the wonderful dogs in daycare, Maggie has reclaimed her life and we thank you so much. Beryl

I spent a lot of time trying to create a great all round dog. I read a number of books on dog psychology, and behaviour and was looking for a way to get Axle well socialised in a calm and stable environment. Being a Staffy comes with a lot of stigmas (usually incorrect ones), and now thanks to great social skills obtained through visits once a week to Wunderdogs, Axle can be taken anywhere and happily play with other dogs and people without the slightest concern. He just loves the interaction, and even when provoked, he has a way of calming the situation with a lick to the face or a submissive stance, and just walks away. The added advantage is that when he comes home from a fun day ay Wunderdogs, he is exhausted, and sleeps like a baby. He now knows the route travelled to Wunderdogs, and starts crying with excitement the moment we turn into Rene St. He's like a kid in a candy store when we walk up to the entrance. I never thought I would take my dog to "daycare", and would have laughed at mates if they did, but now I would highly recommend it to any dog owner.

Thanks, Jay.

What a great place to take your dog for a safe and fun day. Well done wunderdogs, Oliver loves you.

Julie

Dear Mel and Stephen,
Rudy loves being with you!
Thank you for your loving care.

Wunderdogs restored my sanity. As the mother of the most active and naughtiest six month old Staffy on the Sunshine Coast I was at my wit's end trying to keep him gainfully employed. As a single parent my biggest problems came when I had to leave him alone for any length of time, arriving home to untold destruction. Wunderdogs was recommended by the expert I brought in to help me with Teddy's training (and mine). I enrolled him for two days a week and within no time Teddy had learnt to approach other dogs nicely as opposed to his former approach which was to hump them (and their owners if at all possible), and to settle down when at home. He has stopped terrorising the cat and biting mummy and whilst he still has a few "projects", the latest being his new bed, he is far less destructive. Teddy, who is now 16 months old, adores Stephen and Melanie and all of his friends at Wunderdogs. He can't wait to get there and when I pick him up he sleeps like a lamb from the minute he gets into the car.

Bliss! Mally Jane

10 out of 10, can't rave enough about these guys. Our precious little fur-baby just loves it. He is always VERY excited to go & that is a great comfort for us & a great testament to Wunderdogs.

Michelle

Brilliant doggie day care,
My little boy is totally enjoying the activities,
play and socialising.
